Matteo Thun I can't live without ...

... my
Wayfarer Ray-Ban
sunglasses. Timeless design in the very best quality,
never looks out of place.

... Faber-Castell
pencils. I am constantly drawing to visualise my thoughts.

... my
Wally skis. Even sporting types who aren't quite as fit as they used to be will have great fun on the more daring slopes
with these.

... my small Alpine
lodge on the Schlern,
a mountain in south
Tyrol. I feel completely at one with nature here.

... vitamins - I have sworn by them for more than 16 years and am hardly ever ill!

... my Eames
rocking chair
It is classic and I spend a lot of time deliberating
over my designs on it.

... this book. Its six proposals for this millennium have become a valuable guide for me in my work.

... my folding bike by Brompton. I've decided not to drive a car anymore in Milan. I now arrive at the office every morning relaxed and ready to go.

... my shower that I designed for Zucchetti. Interestingly I have my best ideas using it every morning.

... "Läckerli" from Basel. These small Swiss biscuits aren't too sweet - I sometimes need them for my nerves.

... my day bed by Mies van der Rohe. Its pure form relaxes the eyes; I enjoy reading here.

... pilates in the morning - The combination of breathing, stretching and exercising relaxes and invigorates me at the same time.

... the collection of watches I designed myself. They help me to try and shake off my chronic lateness.

... green tea, because you can drink it throughout the day.

... the restaurant "La Latteria" in Milan, particularly the excellent Tuscan stew they have on the menu.
