Ethimo, outdoor living, Italian style

Set up in 2009 thanks to its founders' passion for gardens and design, Ethimo is an Italian company that specialises in top-end garden furniture.

Careful selection of materials, unusual combinations of the same and attention to detail are the distinguishing traits of Ethimo collections, as are the essential lines that define every element, in a mix of design and function.

Teak wood, exclusively FSC certified, is definitely one of the most characteristic materials used in production; its great durability and resistance to the elements make it excellent for outdoor use.

Ethimo has introduced various innovative finishes to give its furniture the most suitable appeal for any setting, whether indoors or out. As well as in a natural version, perfect with any fabric or material, teak is also used by Ethimo in an elegant pickled finish, which gives the wood a used look and teams beautifully with warm colours.

The latest addition is Chocolate, new for 2018 in winter fabrics like tartan or houndstooth. Each line of furniture is the embodiment of quality, technological innovation and design, delivering ideal solutions for elegantly understated personalisation of the most beautiful outdoor areas worldwide.

Ambassador of the most genuine Italian style, the company collaborates with internationally famous designers in the creation of eclectic, comfortable collections. Allaperto, the range by Matteo Thun and Antonio Rodriguez, is the unmistakable quintessence of the concept of comfort, quality and design. A unique collection with 4 distinct souls, in which teak or mahogany wood define the profiles of lounge seating and sunbeds that change "clothing": from the lively tartan of the Mountain version to Ethitex in the Urban series, from white Etwick in the Grand Hotel line to the colourful PVC rope in the Camping Chic version.
